Shopping Center . . .

the Broadway and Sears, will be an integral part of a single project.

Coldwell Banker and co. negotiated the transaction between the three firms.

50 Other Shops

Connecting the Broadway store of 220,000 square feet and the Sears store of 250,000 square feet, the Del Amo shopping center will have a mall on either side of which over 50 specialty shops, national chain and variety stores, markets, drug stores, restaurants and banks will make one stop shopping easy and pleasant.

Welton Becket, FAIA, and Associates are architects for the Broadway, and designs for a three-story structure are being completed.

Stiles Clements, architect for Sears, is planning a main store on one level plus a basement with a separate garden shop and automotive service station.

For the convenience of shoppers, parking areas for over 6000 cars will be provided in close proximity to all shops and stores.

Annual Sales

Involving 85 acres of land, the development when completed in spring of 1959, will contain over 1,150,000 square feet of buildings, at a cost, including land and fixtures, of approximately $40,000,000 and with annual sales expected to be in excess of $65,000,000.

Coldwell Banker and co., leasing agents for the entire project, announced that aside from Sears and the Broadway, the Del Amo Estate co., will develop the balance of the center with Welton Becket and Associates as project architects.
